

1. Open a checking account at any one of our conveniently located branches. Our Customer Service Representatives will be glad to help you through the account opening process. Make sure you bring an unexpired government issued picture ID and proof of your Social Security number with you.
2. Discontinue using your old account. It could take up to two statement cycles for all your outstanding checks and items to clear. In the meantime, destroy any unused checks, deposit slips, ATM cards and check cards.
3. Establish direct deposit with your new account. Send Attachment A to your employer so they can begin processing your payroll to your new account.
4. Change automatic withdrawals and deposits. Print or copy Attachment B and use it to change withdrawals or payments. Print or copy Attachment C and use it to change any automatic deposits. Don't forget payments being made with your check card. For these, simply contact your vendor and provide your new card number and expiration date.
5. Close your old checking account. You do not have to go to the bank to close your old checking account. After all checks and debit items have cleared, simply complete and send Attachment D to your former bank and your account will be closed. If there is a remaining balance, ask them to send it to you by check.
